MARCH 2026 SUMMARY

- Current Positioning: 50% Gold; 30% Bitcoin; 20% Silver; 10% Ethereum.
- Gold: After hitting an all-time high in late January, gold underwent a sharp correction. Despite this pullback, major institutions have raised their price targets for 2026 to $6,000/oz, citing persistent central bank demand a weakening dollar.
- Silver: Now trading at a significant discount to its all-time high from January, silver is projected to have a 67 million ounce supply deficit in 2026, providing a strong floor to prices.
- Bitcoin: While bitcoin is trading well below its post-election highs, the outlook is decidedly bullish for 2026; institutional price targets are between $120k-$150k as strategic reserve discussions and the supply squeeze from the 2024 halving begin to drain exchange liquidity.
- Ethereum: Ethereum is transitioning from a burn-centric asset to a leveraged claim on global ecosystem activity. It has faced pressure due to lower base-layer fees, however, its role as the primary settlement layer for tokenized real-world assets is its strongest catalyst.

*Important Note: Bitcoin derivatives or ETPs are described in the prospectus.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible.

ETFs are subject to additional risks that do not apply to conventional mutual funds, including the risks that the market price of an ETF's shares may trade at a premium or discount to its net asset value, an active secondary trading market may not develop or be maintained, or trading may be halted by the exchange in which they trade, which may impact an ETF's ability to sell its shares. Shares of any ETF are bought and sold at market price (not NAV) and are not individually redeemed from the ETF. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns.

The IDX Alternative FIAT ETF is distributed by Foreside Fund Services, LLC.

Investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. The value of an investment in the Fund is based on the performance of the underlying funds in which the Fund invests and the allocation of its assets among those ETFs. The underlying ETFs may change their investment goals, policies or practices and there can be no assurance that the underlying ETFs will achieve their respective investment goals. Investing in foreign securities poses additional risks since political and economic events unique in a country or region will affect those markets and their issuers, while such events may not necessarily affect the U.S. economy or issuers located in the United States. Emerging markets may be more likely to experience political turmoil or rapid changes in market or economic conditions than more developed countries.

Concentration Risk: The Fund will concentrate its investments in the particular industry or group of industries assigned to the Crypto ETPs and Metal ETPs. To the extent the Fund has significant exposure in a single asset class may affect the value of the Fund's investments more than if the Fund were more broadly diversified.

Cryptocurrency Risk: Cryptocurrency is an emerging asset class with a limited history. There are thousands of cryptocurrencies, the most well-known of which is Bitcoin. Although the Fund does not directly invest in Bitcoin, Ether, SOL, or XRP the Fund's indirect investments in these digital assets are exposed to risks associated with the price of the underlying cryptocurrency, which is subject to numerous factors and risks. Investments in or exposure to cryptocurrencies, such as Bitcoin or Ether, are subject to substantial risks, including significant price volatility and fraud and manipulation, which are generally more pronounced in the crypto asset market. The Fund will not invest directly in Bitcoin, Ether, Solana, XRP or any other digital assets.

Derivatives Risk: The Fund may invest in derivative instruments, such as futures contracts, forward contracts, and swaps, which may involve significant risks. Derivatives often provide leveraged exposure, meaning the Fund can experience gains or losses greater than the amount invested in the derivative, based on changes in the value of the underlying asset, index, or rate, which the Fund may not own.

Bitcoin Investing Risk: While the Fund (or the IDX Subsidiary) will not directly invest in Bitcoin, it will be subject to the risks associated with Bitcoin by virtue of its investments in Bitcoin derivative instruments and Crypto ETPs that hold Bitcoin.

ETH Investing Risk: While the Fund (or the IDX Subsidiary) will not directly invest in ETH, it will be subject to the risks associated with ETH by virtue of its investments in ETH derivative instruments and Crypto ETPs that hold ETH. ETH is a relatively new innovation and is subject to unique and substantial risks. The market for ether is subject to rapid price swings, changes and uncertainty. A significant portion of the demand for ETH may be the result of speculation.

Gold Risk: The Fund invests in gold futures contracts and Metal ETPs that own gold. This subjects the Fund to the risks of gold generally and futures contracts. Neither the Fund nor the IDX Subsidiary invests directly in gold.

Silver Risk: The Fund invests in silver futures contracts and Metal ETPs that own silver. This subjects the Fund to the risks of silver generally and futures contracts. Neither the Fund nor the IDX Subsidiary invests directly in silver.

Leverage Risk: The Fund's use of derivatives, such as swaps, futures contracts, and forward contracts, may create financial leverage, amplifying the Fund's exposure to price movements in the underlying assets. This leverage increases the Fund's volatility, potentially leading to greater gains or magnified losses compared to a non-leveraged strategy.

60/40: The 60/40 portfolio is a classic investment strategy allocating 60% of assets to equities (stocks) for growth and 40% to fixed-income securities (bonds) for income and stability. Designed to balance risk and reward, it aims to reduce volatility, relying on the assumption that bonds will mitigate stock market downturns.

Debasement Trade: The "debasement trade" is an investment strategy driven by fears that central banks and governments are overspending, leading to long-term currency devaluation and inflation. Investors hedge against this loss of purchasing power by shifting funds from fiat cash and bonds into "hard" assets like gold, Bitcoin, real estate, and stocks.

The Fund will invest in options contracts that are based on the value of Gold and Silver.

This subjects the Fund to certain of the same risks as if it owned shares of GLD or SLV, even though it does not.
